

Strategy

The objective of this sub-fund is to replicate as closely as possible the rising phases of the benchmark index while reducing risk during periods of decline. To achieve this, behavioural finance parameters are used to optimise both the timing of specific and sector-related decisions and the strategic allocations.

Fund manager comment

Very good month for the fund in absolute and even more compared to the benchmark. Sector rotation came back in favour of more cyclical companies, like Automobiles, Basic resources, Energy and Banks. Defensives sectors have been under pressure especially if their valuation is relatively high compared to the market. Generally, high PE remain under pressure in this environment of raising interest rates. Value stocks remains the best place to be and the fund is clearly overweighting those companies. The Fund has a price to book ratio of 1.4 compared to 1.77 for the index.

The EuroStoxx50 index finished the period slightly in negative with a performance of -0.36% compared to +4.10% for the fund. Historical volatility on a 100 days basis is at 28.5% for the EuroStoxx50 compared to 23.08% for the fund.

Caution or clear pessimism is well spread around in the market. Higher interest rate and central banks attitude is Key but it is not automatically negative for equities. As long as real interest rates remain in negative territory, inflation is not bad for the market. Earnings continue to be revised to the upside and this is good for valuation. The EuroStoxx50 is worth 11.38 the next year earnings, this is cheap!
