Strategy

The objective of this sub-fund is to replicate as closely as possible the rising phases of the market while reducing risk during periods of decline. To achieve this, behavioural finance parameters are used to optimise both the timing of specific and sector-related decisions and the strategic allocations.

Fund manager comment

August has been a hectic month. Sudden fears of recession after weaker US payrolls numbers coupled with the abrupt unwinding of Yen carry trade strategies, resulted in one of the most volatile August ever. Volatilities climbed up to 40 % at the height of the panic in Europe, not to mention what happened in Japan. Central banks are suddenly perceived as too restrictive in their monetary policy.

From a sector point of view, we observed a continuation of the recent trend, i.e. cyclicals underperforming the rest of the market, more specifically Autos, Basic Resources, Media, Energy and for once Banks. On the other side, we find Healthcare, Telecom, Insurance and Retail.

Despite all this context, the EuroStoxx50 index ended the period with a return of +1.75 % compared with -1.18 % for the fund. In the portfolio Miners and Auto were the most penalising stocks.

Our behaviour indicators have clearly turned positive with the market stress of August. We expect a positive and sustainable reaction in the last months of the year. We continued to increase the equity exposure. Volatility has remained quite stable for the funds despite a strong increase for the market. On a 100 days average, historic volatility is at 11.51 % for the fund against 14.89 % for the market.
